Hunting cabin for sale- has been used as a get away for hunters - There is a near by subdivision boat launch at the end of the road that a person could possibly buy into. This property is not in that subdivision, but worth checking out. Insides need to be finished...Walls are up and insulation - partial kitchen is installed and 2 lofts for sleeping...come take a look - no water or sewer - have been carrying water and using a porta potty and having it emptied- with a little elbow grease and a few bucks this could be a great get away - (Septic and well were quoted for $22, 000) Located on a beautiful half acre lot that is very flat. Awesome
