This property at Lake of the Ozarks, MO is one that could be a gem in disguise...It is lakefront but not dockable because of all the debris in the corner....but with a little hard work and elbow grease- it could be beautiful. There is a little hill on the far side where a person could have a nice view of the lake - Who knows- it could be wonderful and the price is right. After it is cleaned up- a whole new world could open up...take a look and see...We refer to it as "the shorts" because of the ariel view makes it look like a pair of shorts...
