Imagine 11.8 acres of untamed wilderness where grass grows taller than your average trampoline and the squirrels hold weekly meetings to discuss their nutty dominion! Picture this: I could host a golf tournament, build a mansion, or even start a llama sanctuary. The possibilities are endless! It's enough space for a small army of friends or just me, a hammock, and an endless supply of snacks. Welcome to my kingdom where the only thing that's bigger than my dreams is the amount of lawn care I'm definitely going to procrastinate!
