Apartments anyone? This nearly 2 acre lot is R-3 High-Density Residential and was originally intended for a 16 unit apartment building. Apartments and multifamily have proven successful in this area and with what is planned for Lake Ozark in the coming years this could be the perfect location. Gentle topography, water, sewer and great access via city roads. Home that is on the property has no value as this is being sold as a development site. What else could you ask for. More like this? There is more acreage that is also listed just a stones throw away. Your chance to build multiple buildings!
