If you've been searching for a Private Retreat that feels more refined than a hunting cabin but still rugged enough to unplug this 71 acre property delivers. Surrounded by timber and wildlife, the off-grid cabin offers comfort beyond the typical weekend shack, making extended stays easy and enjoyable. Whether used as a hunting basecamp, recreational escape, or a future full-time residence with additional improvements, the cabin provides a solid starting point. Quiet, remote, and rich in natural beauty, this is a place to build memories now and possibilities for the future.
