This versatile 131+/- acre property offers an outstanding opportunity for hunters, outdoor enthusiasts, farmers, and investors. The land is primarily wooded with mature timber, providing excellent wildlife habitat and easy walking throughout. Two ponds provide reliable water for wildlife and livestock while enhancing the property's natural beauty. Several open areas are suitable for grazing, hay production, or future development. An old homestead site includes a house and multiple sheds. The home is in poor condition and holds no contributory value, allowing buyers to start fresh with new construction or recreational improvements. Located less than two miles from a state highway, this property combines privacy with convenient access. Whether you are seeking a premier hunting tract, recreational retreat, working farm, or future homesite, this land offers exceptional versatility and long-term potential. This piece has been separated from the original parcel; taxes will be updated at closing.
