Some places give you room to build. This one gives you room to breathe. 7.5 acres bordering Corps ground means your property doesn't just end at the fence line. Step off your own land and keep exploring. Hike the ridges. Ride the trails. Cruise around in the side-by-side. Or disappear into the timber with nothing but the sound of the woods. The hard work is already checked off. Septic is in. Power is on site. Trails are already cut throughout the property, so you can start enjoying it the day you close instead of spending months getting it ready. Whether your dream is a cabin, a camper setup, or the place everyone disappears to on the weekends, this property gives you the freedom to make it happen. Opportunities like this don't sit around. Neither should you.
