If you've been looking for a place with good bones great ground and real potential this one is worth a look. Tucked just off Highway 97 this 3 bed 2 bath ranch home sits on approximately 4 acres with the kind of setting buyers are always after open space a pond and room to actually do something with it. Whether that's a small hobby setup animals or just enjoying your own piece of ground the layout gives you options. The home itself offers a functional open feel with plenty of natural light and a solid starting point to make it your own. It's not pretending to be perfect but that's where the opportunity comes in. With a little elbow grease and vision this property has the ability to truly shine. Outside is where this one stands out large yard usable pasture a peaceful pond and an outbuilding ready for storage projects or livestock. Location keeps you grounded but connected just a short drive to Stockton and El Dorado Springs. This isn't a cookie cutter property it's a chance to create something that fits your lifestyle.
