Country roads, meet your happy ending. This one-level, three-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bath home spreads across 19 glorious acres, and yes, John Denver was absolutely onto something. Step inside and prepare for a bit of "wow." Soaring ceilings stretch overhead while custom finishes add that touch of thoughtful craftsmanship you don't stumble upon every day. The layout flows with genuine ease, and a versatile bonus room stands ready to become an office, playroom, or the hobby space you've been quietly plotting for years. Then there's the primary suite, which frankly deserves its own postcard. Between the restful bedroom and the spa-worthy bathroom, "pure paradise" starts to feel like an understatement rather than a stretch. Outside is where this property really flexes. A generous wrap-around porch invites you to sip coffee, watch the sunset, and marvel at views that never send an invoice. The pastures come prepped and fenced for livestock, so the cows, horses, and chickens can move in right alongside you. Room to roam? Consider it delivered in abundance. And the crown jewel: Bull Shoals Lake. Fishing, floating, or simply admiring the shimmer -- it's all part of the daily menu here. This is new construction meeting wide-open country living, and the combination is genuinely hard to resist. Bring your boots, bring your critters, and most importantly,
