Discover the possibilities with this 60-acre property in Green Forest, Arkansas, offering a versatile mix of pasture, hay ground, and gently rolling to level terrain. The acreage is fully fenced and cross-fenced into three paddocks, making it well suited for cattle, livestock, or rotational grazing. With established pasture and productive hay ground, the property offers plenty of room to graze cattle and produce hay. A pond provides an additional water source for livestock, while the varied topography offers a combination of level, sloping, and rolling land. Whether you're looking to expand an existing cattle operation, establish a poultry farm, create a working farm, or simply own a sizable piece of Northwest Arkansas land, this property offers the acreage and flexibility to bring your plans to life. Conveniently located near Green Forest while still providing the space and rural setting you're looking for.
