Whitetail & turkey hunters & weekend recreators of all kinds, we have just what you're looking for! This 65.2 Acre recreational property on the Little Tavern Creek in Iberia, MO is the perfect location for your hunting camp or weekend getaway. For the hunters, there is over a half mile of creek frontage, and two large fields, giving you plenty of sites for deer stands and blinds with the creek making a strong attractor for wild game. With control of both sides of the creek, you don't have to worry about neighbors heading off your quarry's approach, giving you more opportunities to secure your trophy buck. For the general recreators, the creek is a great place to cool off during a hot weekend and spend your evenings fishing/gigging. Electric is available on site should you want to build a cabin or a camper pad, so the fun can last all weekend. There is not much available like it - call to schedule your private tour today!
